Hurricane Ian mandatory evacuation notice

From Chief Jeff Pawul:

As a reminder, when the evacuation notice is given (as it has), the Fire District will also have to evacuate and will no longer be available to run emergency calls until after the storm passes.

Hurricane Ian- Mandatory Evacuation Notice
Captiva Fire District

LEE COUNTY, Fla. — Lee County has declared a local State of Emergency due to Hurricane Ian.

Mandatory evacuations will be for Zone A, and parts of Zone B will also be evacuated. Officials urged to not put your trash out if you are in Zone A and partial Zone B.

Zone A is in the low lying areas, along the coastal area based on the surge models. The Zone B evacuation order applies to residents south of Veterans

Parkway in Cape Coral, as well as residents who live in mobile and manufactured homes.

Ten emergency shelters will be opening this morning at 9 a.m. All shelters are pet friendly. You can find the list at leegov.com.

Sheriff Carmine Marceno said his top priority is to keep folks safe during this storm. Law enforcement is not going to respond after 45MPH winds. Until it is safe to do so, they will respond as soon as possible.

Officials said to get non-perishables, and be prepared for days without electricity. If you plan on evacuating, to to a family/ friends house that is outside of the evacuation zone.
